More Weather.

The strong southwest wind of yesterday seems to have been the forerunner of the heaviest storm of the season so far. It was fully midnight when the rain began to accompany the sudden gusts of wind which had been prevailing thirty-six hours previously. From that time until seven o'clock this morning there was a very large downfall of water as well as many other things which could not resist the attacks of nature's blow-pipe.

About half past five o'clock the check strings on the upper reservoir got loose and if a man at a respectable elevation could have looked down upon this portion of California it is very probable that it would have appeared to him like one vast sheet of water. Its full strength lasted over twenty minutes. It took but a very few minutes to flood all of the principal thoroughfares of Berkeley. A large water shed behind it brought more liquid through these avenues than there were conveniences for taking care of it promptly.

In North Berkeley the grade on the streets leading from the hills is in places somewhat steep, and large volumes of water were forced through them with great speed. As it reached the streets running at right angles it became somewhat diverted. Shattuck avenue seemed to have secured the largest quantity. From Vine street on the north to Center street on the south this avenue presented the appearance of a small river.

The railroad tracks acted as a guide to a certain extent, and held the main body in the middle of the street. Such a volume of water moving with good velocity carried mud, sand and gravel along with it, making a good deposit on the western sidewalks from University avenue to Center street. About the East Berkeley station water stood for awhile ankle deep.

In other parts of the town almost the same trouble was experienced, particularly at the West end, where streets become impassible. A cave-in of the sidewalk occurred in front of Cooley Bros.'s carriage shop. Here it appears the water has been forced to flow towards the sidewalk on University avenue, and has eaten the earth away. This has happened before, and recently Mrs. Lewis had a bulkhead built to hold the sidewalk up. It was not extended far enough west and the consequence is the slump as aforesaid.

The Bancroft bulkhead also suffered. This public work should have been roofed over and shingled before the rainy season set in. A great deal of the earth used in its construction was, for some reason or other, not bolted down and it bolted out. One should have seen the beautiful marine view it afforded as the sad sea waves struck the stringers full in the face and bounded in the air and caused the large amount of dampness to fall in a spray somewhat resembling the mist at Niagara Falls. A few fences succumbed to the inevitable. As the storm does not appear to have finished its course of destruction we shall publish the details of its work in chapters. To be continued in our next.

Race Mesalliances.

The German servant girl in Chicago who has married an Americanized Chinese may not regret her act, as the Celestial is usually said to make a kind husband. Girls of her class usually make marriages of this sort to secure an easy life, and as they are not sensitive, they manage to escape the moral suffering that falls to the lot of better bred women who make a mesalliance. Probably the worst victims of ill assorted marriages in the United States are the girls of good family who have married Indians. In every case such girls have endured misery and shame and have finally appealed to the divorce courts for freedom.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Berkeley's Christian College.

Several months ago Rev. H. A. Monser succeeded in getting the Christian Church to establish a theological school in Berkeley. Since then he has been canvassing different portions of the State, for the purpose of securing funds to found the college. He recently returned home and feels very much encouraged with his trip. He expects now to be ready to receive scholars during the coming fall, possibly by the first of August, 1895.

A New Railroad.

A line of railroad between San Francisco and Los Angeles has been long talked of and a very large amount of preliminary work has been done by Frederick Homer, the surveys have been made under his personal supervision. Yesterday articles of incorporation were filed by what will be known as the San Francisco and Los Angeles Railroad. The incorporators are Frederick Homer of Berkeley, W. H. C. Fowler, W. H. Marten, W. J. Behan and A. Judson. It is designed to run the road through the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Madera, Fresno, Tulare, Kern and Los Angeles. Mr. F. Homer represents eastern capitalists who are backing the enterprise.

Mated.

A marriage license has been taken out in Alameda for the purpose of having a legal permission to marry, the parties thereto being George Schmidt and Mrs. Nellie Marie Collignon. It is very probable that ere the GAZETTE reaches its many subscribers today, the two will have become one. The groom is a well known real estate dealer in Berkeley, and the bride was formerly the wife of a Berkeley architect. All's well that ends well.

A Contest Filed.

Joseph Herscher of San Leandro, the defeated Republican candidate for County Treasurer, filed a notice of contest yesterday afternoon. He charges fraud in several precincts. The official returns were: Sanford 5332, Laymance 5311, Herscher 5107. Laymance has already filed notice of contest. The date for hearing it has been set for January 3d, before Judge Frick.

Smile.

"Isn't it glorious?" exclaimed the enthusiastic girl, as she leaned over the taffrail, "Doesn't it fill you with wild delight to feel the breeze fan your cheeks as you fly before the wind, the whitecaps speeding after you?"

"Yes, it's all right to have 'em speeding after you here," replied the fallow passenger, "but out in Indinny—"

Then he remembered and became silent.

Having been out late last night, Jack seemed rather silent at breakfast this morning, and Mrs. Jack, ever anxious to please, especially in his moments of absent-mindedness, said, "Jack, dear, will you have some chops?"

"Yep, gimme ten blue."

"What did you say, dear?"

"Oh, I said give me a few."

"Mildred, did you work any. Hal loween charms to ascertain who your future husband will be?"

"No, Blanche, I didn't."

"Why, you never told me you were engaged. Who is the lucky man?"

Woman Lawyer—What is your age?"

Woman Witness—I was born in the same year as yourself.

Woman Lawyer—Witness excused.

"Lyersby was telling me that he had a dream that an angel appeared and told him that he would go straight to heaven when he died. Now, what do you think of that?"

"Oh, that's just him, he couldn't even dream the truth."

Not to be Caught.

A laughable little story is told of a woman on the witness stand in a French court. She was asked her age, and she answered that she was 30 years old.

"But," said the magistrate, "did you not tell me you were 30 when you appeared before me two years ago?"

"I think it very likely," she replied smilingly acknowledging her falsehood, and not at all abashed. "I am not one of those women who say one thing today and another thing tomorrow." Youth's Companion.

Songs of All Nations.

NEW YORK, December 20.—A unique recital of comparative song was given this evening by Miss Viva Cummins, of San Francisco, at the new school of opera and oratorio. Miss Cummins is the daughter of Mrs. Ella Sterling Cummings, who was one of the California commissioners to the World's Fair at Chicago. She is only 17 years old, but she can sing native airs from thirteen languages.

The philological traits of the young lady are inherited. Her father, a California lawyer, was proficient in many different tongues. This evening Miss Cummins sang Hungarian airs, Hindoo love songs, Sanscrit chat, Cingalese melody, some Japanese love songs, Bedouin and Egyptian love songs, the Mohammedan call to prayer and an Arabian song called "Ya Ter el Bamam," with an Egyptian drum accompaniment. The most interesting songs were the characteristic airs of the Zuni, Sioux and Mexican Indians. The singer was appropriately costumed in native dress for each song. Miss Cummins has a clear, strong voice, and in her rendition of the songs which she learned from natives at the World's Fair she exhibited great versatility.

Budd Visits Markham.

SACRAMENTO, December 20.—Governor-elect Budd came over from Stockton this afternoon, and was met at the depot by prominent Democrats, and taken to the Sutter Club for the night. His visit is for the purpose of seeing the Governor and State officials, and gathering data for his inaugural message. He had a long interview with Governor Markham tonight, and the meeting was a most cordial one, and they had a pleasant and confidential chat, as they are friends of long standing. He leaves for San Francisco on tomorrow afternoon's train.

Palace of Sweets.

One of the most unique display of holiday presents now made in Berkeley is that made by Chas. Okerlinn at his Palace of Sweets on Shattuck avenue, near Center street. At this place you can find all kinds of useful and ornamental presents, as well as the choicest of candies and confections. Here you can also find Christmas trees of all kinds and sizes, as well as the ornaments and presents to trim it with.

Geneaal Wagner, who has been on the Mojave desert on business, will return this evening so as to be present at the funeral of his daughter, the late Mrs. H. M. Waterbury, which takes place tomorrow.

Entered at the postoffice as second class matter.

THE steamer Campania, in a recent run from New York to Queens-town, made a most remarkable run. The number of knots made daily were as follows: 450, 517, 507, 508, 510 and 507.

IT is understood that the Revision Committee of the Freeholders have changed the boundary lines between wards 2 and 3 to Ellsworth street. At last accounts they had reached the sections defining the powers of the Board of Trustees.

A CONTEMPORARY, in referring to the Advocate, says: "There is an epidemic prevalent not only in this city, but in every town in the State, and the symptoms indicate softening of the brain." Rather a serious charge against the leading writer on that sheet.

PROMPT ATTENTION NEEDED.

Now is the time for the members of the different improvement clubs formed in Berkeley to make personal observation of any defects in the streets and sewers, and report them immediately to the Secretaries of the various associations, that the information can be correctly conveyed to the Town Marshal and the Board of Trustees. During the heavy rains all of these defects are easily ascertained. Let every property owner make it his business to attend to matters of this kind, and it will not take long to get our city in the best possible shape as far as these kind of improvements are concerned.

OAKLAND HIGH SCHOOL.

Oakland's new High School building is now completed and was formally dedicated yesterday, a large number of people being in attendance. The opening address was made by Superintendent McClymonds. The keys of the building were delivered to the Mayor of the city by President Carothers of the Board of Public Works. Mayor Pardee, in accepting them, gave a very interesting address on the rise and progress of the High School. Oakland should be very proud of its new educational building.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

Late eastern advices make it look as if the bill to aid the building of this large canal would pass in the U. S. Senate, although there may be some delay about it. Senator Perkins recently made a very strong speech in its favor and it is likely to have some effect on his colleagues. California is interested largely in the consummation of this work and trusts that it may be carried to an early completion.

THE OAKLAND WATER FRONT CASE.

The Oakland water front case is now being argued in Washington by the various attorneys engaged pro and con. As it involves many millions of dollars a great deal of interest is being manifested elsewhere than the Pacific Coast. It is expected that very able arguments will be made. Sometime will probably elapse before a decision can be arrived at, but from the speeches of counsel the public should get reading matter which will attract general attention.

CIVIL SERVICE.

It now appears that Collector Wise of the port of San Francisco is to have an investigation as to his action in regard to the Civil Service rules. Appearances go to show that he has violated these rules in somewhat of a persistent manner. The Civil Service Commission has sufficient charges before it to cause an overhauling of the leading federal officer on the Pacific Coast. The people will look anxiously for the result of this examination.

The revenue cutter "Rush" has returned into port after a ten days search for the missing vessels without having seen anything of them. But little hope is left that they will come into port again all right.

The heavy rains of the past four days keep people from going to Oakland or the city for holiday presents. A good thing for the Berkeley merchants.

It is expected that Oakland will have to witness the birth of several new daily papers early in the new year. A. W. Bishop, ex postmaster, seems to have the best chance with his independent sheet. Echoes is likely to proclaim itself a daily "organ" and so is Industry. The Telegram and Mail, the two non-union papers, can hardly expect a "new-birth."—Union Printer.

Fred Saxton was the hero of the hour this morning. He made at least six different trips from across the railroad track at Bancroft way in the direction of the Standard Soap Works, and each time he carried a precious bundle of female beauty.

Fred Atchison, on the corner of University avenue and Ninth street, West Berkeley, will have one hundred turkeys, which will be, if properly divided, one for each man that he has advertised for to unload schooners. The division will be made on tomorrow, Saturday evening, commencing after the candles are lighted.

Passengers on the Bay City, the last boat from San Francisco last night for the narrow gauge slip were panic stricken for awhile. Just as the captain gave the engineer the signal to start at full speed a heavy sea struck the steamer, followed quickly by another, which dashed the vessel against the slip, frightening the passengers.

The Golden West Bakery has provided itself with a large variety of the various kinds of candies, bonbons and bric-a-brac, which make the store windows look so pretty and the eyes so covetous. If you will go to their store on Center street opposite the Kellogg schoolhouse, it is very certain that will be displayed to your gaze something which you have been looking elsewhere for and could not find.

The Advocate, in a long article last evening, announced that the editor of the GAZETTE was to be arrested for libel, upon complaint of A. V. Doan, and wound up the tirade by saying that Doan took the first car for Oakland to procure a warrant. As the editor of the GAZETTE is still out of jail it is presumed that the District Attorney failed to find anything in the plaint of the Advocate and Mr. Doan.

New Offices.

The military department of the U. C., under the charge of Lieutenant Winn, professor of military science and tactics, has made a greater advance in efficiency than in years preceding his administration.

To introduce flexibility in the organization and give an opportunity for more rapid promotion of merit, the class division of officers has been broken into. The old plan drew the corporals from the sophomores, the sergeants from the juniors and higher officers from the seniors. By a schedule published yesterday a number of juniors as made second lieutenants, leaving to seniors the offices above that, and a number of sophomores have been made sergeants.

The final appointments for the year of the battalion officers, as yesterday announced, are:

Lieutenant-Colonel—William H. Gorrill.

Captains—Gibbons, Fitzgerald, Jones, Stringham, Hewlett and Corbett, ranking in the order given.

Quartermaster and first lieutenant, Greene.

First lieutenants—Bachman, Rickard, Magocio, Porcello, McNutt.

Second lieutenants—McCulloch, Thompson, H. W. Allen, Russ, Naphthaly, Bush, Hirst.

Sergeant-major—Kierulf.

First sergeants—Graham, Kelley, Gray, Fischbeck, Blake, Jackson.

Quartermaster-sergeant—O'Connor.

Sergeants—G. M. Fisher, Wright, Kinzie, Bayley, Taylor, Mee, Booth, Son. Rawlings, Jurgens.

Color sergeants—Veeder, Ferris.

Corporals—F. W. Henderson, Laughlin, Earle, Chestnut, Holling, Gage, Palmer, C. J. Barkett, W. N. L. Hynes, E. J. Sherman, Groves.

First-class privates—Magee, Rubottom, Baltelbee, Hume, Agood, Coleman, McChesney, Gerzikowski, Wilson Finnigan, Trefethan, Meblman, Chandler, Gould, Soph, Mel.

Funeral Notice.

The funeral of the late Mrs. H. M. Waterbury will take place tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock from her late residence, 1900 Louisa street. Friends and acquaintances are cordially invited to attend the funeral. Interment in family plot, Odd Fellows cemetery, San Francisco.

Many of the streets were overflowed to-day on account of the sudden falling of a very large amount of rain. Among them were the crossings of Dana and Dwight way, Blake and Dana, Blake and Ellsworth and Blake and Shattuck. On Telegraph avenue from University grounds to Dwight way a large stream of water is constantly flowing.

A number of electric cars on the Grove street line were damaged this morning by trying to swim through a lake at Lorin. Open cars had to be substituted for those that were damaged.

Madame Kohne, midwife and ladies' nurse, has removed from Fifth street and Bancroft way to her present residence, 1912 Fifth street, between University avenue and Bristol street. Persons requiring her services can inquire at Rutledge's drug store.
